Consider this ...

"Nobody sees a flower, really - it's so small - we haven't time, and to see takes time." - Georgia O'Keeffe

A new year, a new book

As I write this newsletter early in 2017, I am so excited to announce that I found my inspiration for my third book - thanks to my Mom (an early Christmas gift!)

Since her "gift" to me is an integral part of the new book I am working on ... all I can say is ... the messages include a mother's unconditional love and her special words about Heaven.

Everyday Serenity - For All of Us

Every spring I can't wait to once again read David Kundtz' book, "Everyday Serenity: Meditations for People Who Do Too Much." In quick reads each day, Kundtz reminds us about the importance to take time for oneself ... to find peace ... to awaken. If you are seeking the perfect book this spring for yourself or as a gift - consider this little gem.

St. Mary's Friendship Group

Thank you once again to the women who attended my April 6 lecture at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Hampden. It was a faith-filled afternoon, starting with conversation and delicious treats (snickerdoodles were my favorite!) made by the women.

Everyone was engaging and welcomed the message from the angelic realm. What a truly blessed gift for me to join them during the Lenten season.

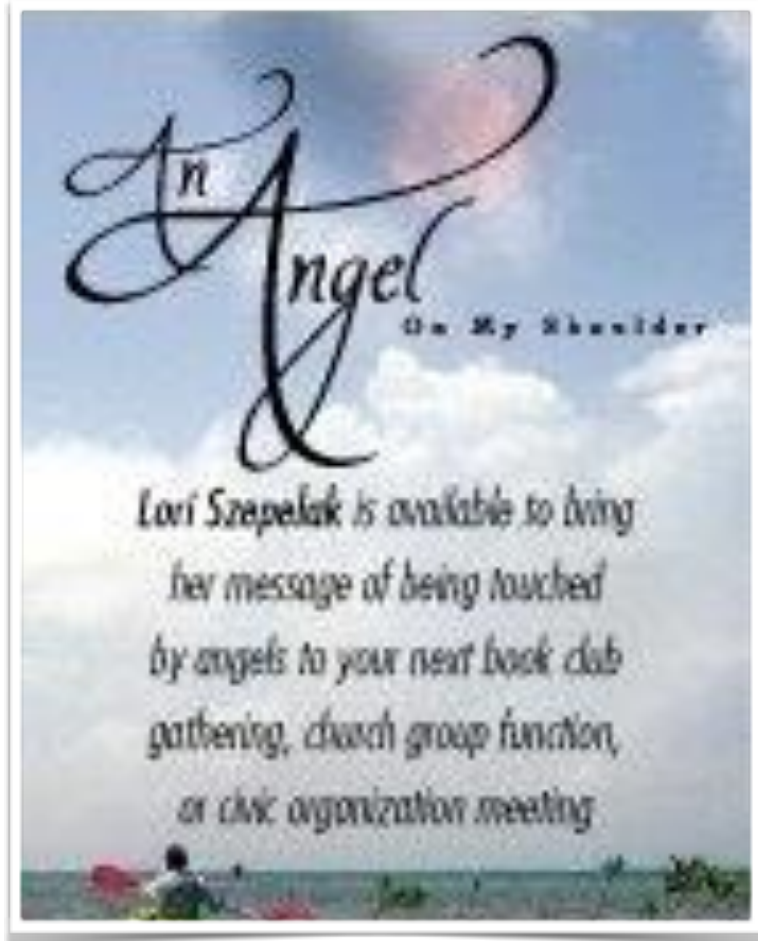

Book Proceeds Also Benefit Local Charities

Since I began my spiritual journey in 2011, each year I have donated a portion of the proceeds from book sales to local charities.

Throughout the year I am always in search of a charity that touches my heart - and I keep a record - so at the end of the year I can write a check to that organization.

Help Me Spread The Word From Angels

Do you belong to a book club, church group or organization that would welcome a message from the angelic realm? If so, please email me at lori.szepelak@charter.net. I live in Western Massachusetts so surrounding areas (northern Connecticut) are also close by. I do not charge a fee because I have been asked to share the message of angels with others.
